Verify dependents to maintain their coverage in medical plans

As previously shared, retirees in Nationwide medical plans must submit verification that an enrolled spouse is still eligible to be in the medical plan.

Dependent re-verification is a best practice because it helps identify changes that may have occurred over time. It’s also part of Nationwide’s responsibility under federal law—and to all enrolled in the Plans—to ensure that only those dependents who meet the Plans’ eligibility requirements are covered.

Not only does this help ensure that the Plans are in compliance, it also helps control costs for you and the company. The dependent re-verification done in 2011 resulted in $2.9 million in annual ongoing savings.

Dependent re-verification for 2014 will begin in July. If you have a spouse enrolled in a Nationwide-offered medical plan—and it’s been three years since he or she was last verified—you will receive a letter at your home from the Aon Hewitt Dependent Verification Center. They will ask for copies of documents that prove your enrolled spouse is still an eligible dependent under the Plans’ terms.

To help you prepare, examples of acceptable documentation can include a federal tax return or Affidavit of Marriage. A detailed listing of accepted documents, based on the relationship, will be included in the mailing and on the Dependent Verification Center website. Remember, do not provide original documents and please black out Social Security numbers before sharing.

If you have any questions about the dependent eligibility verification process, contact the Aon Hewitt Dependent Verification Center at 866-881-3419.

Get 24/7 medical care with Teladoc

Teladoc offers 24/7 access to a national network of physicians who provide quality, affordable health care through convenient and confidential telephone or online video consultations.

Teladoc physicians are not a replacement for your Primary Care Physician (PCP); they are simply an alternative when your PCP is not available. Teladoc physicians can diagnose, treat and write prescriptions for routine medical conditions, such as a sore throat, stuffy nose, allergies, cold and flu, respiratory infections, ear infections, urinary tract infections and more.

Retirees and their dependents enrolled in our Health Savings Choice 1 and PPO Basic/Premium health care options are eligible for Teladoc. Set up your account in advance so it’s ready to go when you need immediate service.

• Visit Teladoc.com/nationwide
• Download the Teladoc app on your smartphone
• Or call 800-TELADOC (800-835-2362) to get started

When to use Teladoc

Teladoc is a convenient option when you are:

• Not able to reach your family physician due to time, weather, remote location or disability
• On vacation
• Considering going to the emergency room or urgent care center for a non-emergency medical issue

Benefits of Teladoc

Teladoc is convenient and available by phone or online 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and you won’t be kept waiting. A physician will contact you within 24 minutes, on average. There’s no appointment or referral required, and it’s a cost-effective alternative to emergency room or urgent care visits for non-emergency medical issues.

Reasonable cost

Teladoc services will be automatically processed as a doctor’s visit under your health care coverage.

You pay for the service at the time of the consultation. Retirees in the Health Savings Choice 1 option pay $38, and retirees in the PPO Basic or Premium options pay their office visit co-pay. You can pay by debit or credit card, a pay card, checking account or your WageWorks Health Care Spending Account card.

Retirees and beneficiaries who receive a monthly payment from the Nationwide Retirement Plan recently received a copy of the plan’s Annual Funding Notice. This notice, which is required by law to be distributed each year, reports one method of measuring the financial health of a pension plan called the Funding Target Attainment Percentage (FTAP).

FTAP provides a strong indication of a plan’s ability to continue to pay benefits. An FTAP above 80 percent indicates that a plan is healthy and no government restrictions are required. “The Nationwide Retirement Plan is one of the best funded plans of its size in the nation,” says Joseph Burke, director, Benefits Planning. “That is reflected in our plan’s most recent FTAP (as of January 1, 2013) of over 133 percent.”

You can find a copy of the Annual Funding Notice at www.nationwide.com/imretired.

This fall, Nationwide retirees with an account balance in the Nationwide Savings Plan will see a change to their 401(k) accounts. Starting Oct. 1, Fidelity Investments will provide administrative services to the Nationwide Savings Plan. The current provider, Charles Schwab, is changing its focus from large plans, like Nationwide’s, to smaller, less customized plans.

Nationwide’s 401(k) has always been an important part of the benefits package. We continually review it to help associates and retirees meet their financial goals and investment objectives. The transition to Fidelity will enhance your ability to manage your 401(k) assets.

In August, you will receive transition information with important key dates and details of Fidelity’s services.

Fidelity services available to Nationwide retirees

As the No. 1 provider of workplace retirement plans, Fidelity offers investment management, retirement planning and brokerage services to more than 20 million individuals and institutions. Some of the Fidelity features available to you after Oct. 1, include:

• Investment options remain the same – With the transition to Fidelity, you’ll see the exact same investment options that you have today with Schwab. There is no need to go in and select different investments. Your investment elections will be transferred from Schwab to Fidelity for you.

• World-class customer service – Experienced Fidelity representatives from a dedicated service team are ready to answer your questions.

• NetBenefits®, your online Fidelity account website – Enjoy convenient account access 24/7.

• NetBenefits smartphone app – Download the app to view your accounts, monitor your balances and investment selections, and get your personal rate of return.

• Easy-to-understand communications and education – Personally relevant information can help you make better investment decisions.

• One-on-one consultations – Schedule an appointment with a Workplace Planning and Guidance Consultant to review your investment options and overall retirement plan.

• Lower administrative fees – This means more of your money goes into your account.

We are very excited about this change, and feel confident that you will be pleased with the administrative services Fidelity provides.

Keep in mind that investing involves risk. The value of your investment will fluctuate over time and you may gain or lose money.

Nationwide Insurance expands into New Jersey

New Jersey, here we come.

This August, Nationwide Insurance will begin offering standard auto insurance in the Garden State.

Consumers can purchase insurance through direct phone sales agents, the Internet and Nationwide exclusive agents in bordering states (within 10 miles of New Jersey) who have or obtain a non-resident appointment.

The expansion brings us a step closer in our goal to become a national insurance provider and takes advantage of our national advertising efforts, which have made us a familiar brand in the state.

Each month, more than 1,000 New Jersey consumers proactively request quotes from us.

Soon, Nationwide will no longer need to refer them to a third party. A changed business and regulatory environment prompted us and several other insurers to enter or re-enter the state.

"Nationwide is excited about this opportunity and the commitment the state and the Department of Banking and Insurance have made to enhance the regulatory climate in New Jersey," says Mark Pizzi, president and COO of Nationwide Insurance. "They have opened the doors to more choices for New Jersey residents, and Nationwide is pleased to be a part of this vibrant market."

Nationwide is not new to the New Jersey marketplace:
• Harleysville Insurance, a Nationwide company, has for years sold a number of products including commercial, home, auto and tenants in New Jersey
• Scottsdale Insurance, our specialty insurance provider, has served New Jersey for more than 30 years
• Nationwide Financial provides public sector retirement plans to thousands of city, county, township and public safety workers across the state

"New Jersey is a great addition to our region," says Brian O’Dell, regional vice president, Northeastern States Regional Operation. "It’s the sixth largest market in the U.S., with 3.2 million households and $13 billion in total property and casualty premium. The New Jersey project team has done great work to make this happen for us."

We’re bigger than McDonald’s, Nike and Starbucks — at least when it comes to our Fortune 500 ranking.

We ranked 91st on this year’s list, moving up nine spots and topping several competitors including Allstate (No. 92), Mass Mutual (#96) and Travelers (No. 114). We cracked Fortune’s Top 100 in 2012, moving up from No. 127.

"Nationwide experienced an exceptional year in 2013 and our Fortune 500 ranking is a reflection of that," says Mark Thresher, chief financial officer for Nationwide. "Part of putting our members first is maintaining the financial strength needed to honor our promises. This year’s ranking shows we’re stronger than ever and able to meet our members’ needs now and in the future."

Fortune ranks U.S.-based companies on their gross revenue. Revenues for insurance companies include premium and annuity income, investment income and capital gains or losses.

Nationwide elects new board members

Nationwide’s new board leaders hail from the farm.

Tim Corcoran, Nationwide’s newly elected board chairman, and new board member Sparky Weilnau both have ties to Ohio’s agricultural community.

Corcoran is the longtime owner and partner of Corcoran Farms. He has been a Nationwide board member for almost 13 years — most recently as vice chairman — and also served as a member of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation board of trustees from 1994 to 2001. Corcoran succeeds Keith Eckel, who recently announced his retirement.

For almost 40 years, Sparky Weilnau has owned and operated Sparky Weilnau Farms, a 1,200-acre grain farm in Milan, Ohio, that specializes in popcorn production. He has also presided over George Weilnau Farm as president since 2010. In addition, Weilnau has held a variety of leadership roles for the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation and other associations across the state.
Strong financial performance continues

Nationwide reported total operating revenue of $6.1 billion for the first three months of 2014, up 5 percent over the same period last year and steady compared to fourth quarter 2013.

The company paid more than $3.5 billion in auto, home, life and other claims and benefits to members and business partners during the quarter. Strong business growth and improving equity markets drove first quarter net operating income of $352 million. This was down slightly from the same period in 2013, mainly due to winter storm activity. Quarter-over-quarter performance reflected a continuation of the profitable growth the company delivered in 2013.

Financial services highlights

Financial services sales increased to $5 billion during the first three months of 2014, up 12 percent over the same period in 2013.

Nationwide’s financial services business generated $184 million in net operating income during the first quarter of 2014, up slightly from the same period last year. Operating performance improved due to higher asset fees and policy charges as a result of a 15 percent increase in customer assets over first quarter 2013.

Property and casualty highlights

Nationwide grew direct written premium across all P&C businesses to $4.5 billion through first quarter 2014, which is up nearly 6 percent over the same time last year.

Nationwide’s P&C business reported $166 million in net operating income for the quarter, down from $231 million during the same period in 2013. The decline was driven by an increase in weather-related claims, which were $378 million for the quarter, up from $263 million reported during the first quarter of 2013, a particularly light winter weather quarter for Nationwide. The January polar vortex event was the main cause of the increase in weather losses and the decline in net operating income relative to last year.

Better roof option offers stronger, safer protection

A roof helps protect the things that make a house a home. We understand that. And because we put members first, Nationwide is offering our members extra roof protection through the Better Roof ReplacementSM endorsement.

The recent increase in severe weather across the United States has prompted the insurance industry to change how it compensates for roof damage.

"While some of our competitors are dealing with this reality by limiting roof claims to actual cash value or omitting certain types and ages of roofs, Nationwide has decided to move forward with Better Roof Replacement," says Brad Lemons, vice president of Property Product Pricing. "This program offers our insureds additional coverage to improve their roof quality, making it safer and possibly reducing damage in the event of another storm."

Nationwide developed the Better Roof Replacement (BRR) option while working with the Insurance Institute for Business and Home Safety (IBHS).

The Institute’s research determined that homes can be better protected from high winds and hail if a roof includes four important elements:

• Hail-resistant shingles
• Waterproof barriers under the shingles
• Taped sealing of the wooden roof deck
• Nailing the roof deck with ring shank nails that are tougher to dislodge than traditional nails

With these elements in place, Nationwide found it can offer more protection to members concerned about the impact of severe weather as an optional coverage. BRR would allow Nationwide members to have their substantially damaged roof replaced using the IBHS recommendations.

The BRR option is already available in Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi, New Hampshire and Vermont. The option will be available in most states by the end of 2014. The average price for the endorsement is about $45 a year.
Sports fans are loyal to their teams — and their favorite brands. Our new sports-related sponsorships will put us in front of fans.

Denver Broncos and Peyton Manning
Five-time pro football MVP and Denver Broncos starting quarterback Peyton Manning signed a new multi-year marketing agreement with Nationwide. We also expanded our relationship with the Denver Broncos Football Club.

As a part of the agreement, Manning will work with Nationwide Insurance to support consumer and business offerings in the auto, home, life and retirement categories. Additionally, Manning will be featured in national advertising this fall.

Nationwide’s expanded multi-year relationship with the Denver Broncos Football Club includes media, on-site activation, in-stadium branding and hospitality. This year, Nationwide will also be the presenting sponsor of the final regular season Broncos’ home game on Dec. 28.

Dale Earnhardt Jr.
The No. 88 Hendrick Motorsports team will “join the Nation” in 2015 thanks to a new three-year partnership that will pair Nationwide with driver Dale Earnhardt Jr. in the NASCAR Sprint Cup Series.

As the exclusive insurance and retirement planning sponsor of Earnhardt’s No. 88 Chevrolet SS team, Nationwide will be a primary sponsor for 12 Sprint Cup races in 2015 and 13 events in both 2016 and 2017. The company also will be an associate-level sponsor of the No. 88 race cars throughout all three seasons.

Hendrick Motorsports will work with Nationwide to support consumer, business and employee offerings in the auto, home, life and classic car insurance and retirement categories.

We’re supporting the communities where we live and work through two new grants from the Nationwide Insurance Foundation.

Feeding America
We’re helping families put food on the table with a $1.43 million grant to Feeding America — the nation’s largest hunger-relief charity.

Feeding America estimates that 49 million Americans — including 16 million children — are food insecure, meaning they don’t know where they’ll find their next meal.

Our grant supports Feeding America’s national efforts to secure food donations from large corporate manufacturers and 21 local member food banks in communities where our associates live and work. It also supports national produce sourcing to make sure fresh fruits and vegetables are available to those who need them.

Nationwide Children’s Hospital
We’re also helping Nationwide Children’s Hospital become a nationally recognized hospital with a new $10 million donation from the Nationwide Insurance Foundation. The gift forms the Nationwide Pediatric Innovation Fund.

The newly established Pediatric Innovation Fund will support research and innovative projects advancing the science and practice of pediatric health care. It also supports the hospital’s innovative clinical and translational research.

Nationwide’s ongoing support of Nationwide Children’s Hospital includes a 10-year, $50 million transformational commitment made by the Nationwide Insurance Foundation in 2006.

Nationwide Children’s has also benefited from Nationwide Insurance’s sports marketing sponsorships. Combined efforts through the Memorial Tournament, Nationwide Children’s Hospital Championship, Legend’s Luncheon, Nationwide Children’s Hospital Columbus Marathon and the Nationwide Children’s Hospital 200 NASCAR race at the Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course have raised more than $3 million annually for the Hospital.
